

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. - 166 BURNS, Robert, Scotch Poet, Autograph Poem. 2 pages, folio, 6 verses of 8 lines each. "A ballad on Mr. Heron's election." This is probably a revised copy by the author, as it has some slight verbal changes from the printed Poem, which may be found in Burns' Works, Vol. III., pages 157 to 160, of Little, Brown & Co's. edition, Boston, 1865.

"Wham will we send to London town,
To Parliament, and 'a that,
Wha maist, in a' the country round,
For worth and sense may fa' that,
For a' that and a' that,
Thro' Galloway and a' that,
Whilk is the Laird, or belted knight,
That best deserves to fa' that."

Letters and autograph poems of Burns have recently advanced largely in price in Great Britain. At the sale of Mr. Gibson-Craig's Collection, in Edinburgh, in March last, "The Whistle," 2 1-2 pages folio was bought by Lord Rosbery for 230 guineas, and no one of the many autograph Poems then sold brought less than 30 guineas, (150 dollars).

" . . . . . Not knowing the circumstances of your position so well as yourself, I can only suggest that you will have to follow your own judgment. . . . . I would suggest that you bring five days rations. . . . . I am on my way to Swift Run Gap and about 6 miles from Harrisburg.

- 429 JACKSON, Gen. T. J., "Stonewall," a. l. s. 2 pages 4° "Head Quarters Valley Dist. May 8, 1862, 5.10 A. M." To Gen. R. S. Ewell.

"If the enemy are in the vicinity of New Market I hope that he will remain there. All that I desire you to do is to keep near enough to Banks to let him know that if he goes down the Valley you will follow him, and that you are all the time in striking distance of him. . . . . to avoid bringing on a general engagement with Banks' present force unless he attempts to cross the Blue Ridge. . . . . General Johnson had a skirmish yesterday. . . . . This morning we move forward and I pray that God will bless us with success. . . . .

It was my object in my letter of the 25th, to explain briefly the position of the enemy north of the Rappahannock, and to suggest the practicability of a combination of your army with Gen. Jackson, to strike at General Banks, or sh'd that not be advisable, and your force not required to hold Banks in check, that with the available part of it for other operations, you should unite yourself with the forces under Gens. Anderson and Field, and drive back the enemy attempting the occupation of Fredericksburg . ." Signed as General. Very fine.

- 436 LEE, Robert E., Commander-in-Chief of Army of C. S. A., I. s. 2 pages 4°. Head Quarters, Richmond, Va., 8th May, 1862." to Gen. R. S. Ewell. ". . . . I see no necessity for retaining your division at Swift Run Gap, if it is ascertained that the intention of the enemy is to retire from the Valley . . . From present indications it is thought that the columns under Gen. Banks will attempt to form a junction with that opposite Fredericksburg under Gen. McDowell. If you ascertain this to be the fact an opportunity might be presented for intercepting Bank's march, and striking him a blow while en route for Fredericksburg, and with this view it is suggested that you move the bulk of your command to Gordonsville on the line of the Rappahannock, so as to have it available for this purpose, and moreover to enable you more readily to form a junction with the force this side of Fredericksburg under Gen. Anderson, if necessary . . . . I have to-day written to Gen. Jackson advising him of the contents of this letter. Should you move, you will report the fact to him . . . ." Signed as General.  "... It is true that in several ways, as you say, the lamp might have thrown the bird's shadow on the floor. My conception was that of the bracket candelabrum affixed against the walls, high up above the door and bust — as is often seen in the English palaces, and even in some of the better houses in New York. Your objection to the tinkling of the foot-falls is far more pointed, and in the course of composition occurred so forcibly to myself, that I hesitated to use the term. I finally used it because I saw that it had, in its first conception, been suggested to my mind by the sense of the supernatural, with which it was at that moment filled. No human or physical foot could tinkle on a soft carpet — therefore the tinkling of feet would vividly convey the supernatural impression. This was the idea, and it is good within itself. But if it fails (as I fear it does) to make itself immediately and generally felt, according to my intention, then in so much is it badly conveyed, or expressed. Your appreciation of 'The Sleeper' delights me. In the higher qualities of poetry, it is better than 'The Raven,' but there is not one man in a million who could be brought to agree with me in this opinion. 'The Raven,' of course, is far the better as a work of art, but in the true basis of all art, 'The Sleeper' is the superior. I wrote the latter when quite a boy . . . The Frogpondians (Bostonians) have badgered me so much that I fear I am apt to fall into prejudices about them. I have used some of their Pundits up, at all events; in 'The Rationale of Verse.' . . . This letter is 3 full pages, and the above extracts give a correct idea of its character. Excessively rare.

- 2164 ——— "From Congo to Congress." This is the title of a folio volume of 158 pages, half morocco, prepared by Major Poore, illustrative of the events in the progress of the Negro, from his native barbarism on the shores of Africa, to the highest position he has attained in this Country, in the Halls of Congress. It begins with a bill of sale of a negro to the Captain of a vessel on the coast of Africa dated "Au Cap. le 2 fevrier 1783." 1 page folio, with 4 bills of sale in Richmond, with 5 autograph manuscript advertisements of rewards for escaped slaves by David Porter, Gabriel Duval and others, and 18 printed handbills of the same purport. Then follows a document signed by Nathan Dane, the author of the ordinance of 1787, and a printed act of Incorporation of the American Colonization Society, as reported to the House of Representatives (Document 147), with an a. d. s. of Henry Clay, its founder and advocate, 1-2 page 4° 1817. 3 a. l. s. of R. R. Gurley, its Agent, of 2 pages 4° each; a printed copy of the Act of George IV of England, 1824 "to amend the Laws relating to the slave trade;" an l. s. 4 pages 8° of Wm. Wilberforce, 1817; Wm. letters, and letters signed, by Levi Cass, Z. Chandler, Anson Burlingame, J. M. Mason, and other partizans in the Abolition controversy. The contest about Kansas begins with an a. l. s. 1 page 4° of H. R. Helper, a printed proclamation of Governor W. Shannon, the MSS. report of the Committee of Conference on "a bill for admission of Kansas," 1 page folio; a printed "Act for the protection of property in Slaves in New Mexico." "General Lane's answer to the President's Message," printed, 1858. L. M. Keitt, a. l. s. 1 page 4°; Charles Sumner, two a. l. s. 2 pages 4° each, June 30, and July 4, 1856, relative to his inability to appear in Court, after the assault by P. S. Brooks. The Harper's Ferry raid has an a. l. s. 1 page 4° of John Brown, unmistakably indicating his projected attack.

Boston, Mass., 6th March, 1858.

"Dear Wife and Children every one,

I now write to say that success has so far attended my efforts, that I not only hope to be able to go on with my business (still I dare say 'my Father's business'), but to see you again before a great while. I 'would praise the Lord for his goodness; and his wonderful works to the children of men.' I have moved about with the utmost stillness, but my proposed measures seem to be most cordially approved by almost all earnest friends of humanity. For this I would be very thankful. I feel that the great Harvest day of my life approaches; and shall I not 'gird up my loins,' that I may reap? Now O God, when I am old, and grey headed, forsake me not till I have showed THY STRENGTH, unto this generation.' I go from this to Philadelphia for a few days, after which I hope soon to be on my way to N. E. Enclose to F. Douglas as before: but do not direct to Captain Brown. May God bless you all.

Your Affectionate Husband and Father,

JOHN BROWN."

There are many letters to H. A. Wise, from Beverly Tucker, Amos A. Lawrence, Charles Levi Woodbury, Watson Freeman and others relative to Brown, an a. l. s. of Henry A. Wise on the same subject, and many from obscure persons; an a. l. s. 3 pages 8° of Richard Realf, Secretary of State under Brown's "Provisional Constitution," an autograph MSS. signed 1 page folio, of Thaddeus Hyatt, the contumacious witness in the Congressional investigation, dated from "Washington Jail," an autograph MSS. signed 2 pages 4° of John A. Andrew, giving his reasons for refusing to appear as a witness, and many other letters of a similar character.

The period of the War begins with a small a. l. s. of President Lincoln, a fac-simile of the Emancipation Proclamation, an a. l. s. 2 pages 4° 1862 of General N. P. Banks, to a Com. of Congress, in regard to use of Government conveyance, in which occurs this sentence about a colored girl, "I requested the Cannoneers to give her a lift — and the gallant men who had hung upon the rear of the column for its defence the greater part of the distance answered with alacrity — No successful efforts were made to ascertain her complexion, but it is not impossible that she belonged to the Class referred to in the resolution, and that her little limbs had been strengthened by some vague dream of Liberty, to be lost or won, in that hurried night march." Also the autograph MSS. of Charles Sumner, 1 page 8° presenting John S. Rock for admission to the Bar of the Supreme Court, the first colored lawyer admitted to that Bar; with an a. l. s. of George T. Downing, H. R. Revels, B. K. Bruce, Robert Smalls, John R. Lynch, J. H. Rainey, R. H. Cain, W. B. Small, and J. M. Langston, colored Members of Congress, and Frederick Douglass, a. l. s. 3 pages 8°, an exceedingly interesting letter relative to John Brown; the Volume concluding with an extract in the autograph of Charles Sumner, from a letter he had received from Henri Martin, 10 April, 1865. "The great cause is gained, and it is one of the most enormous events which the world has ever witnessed. The consequences will be to the advantage of civilization and liberty over the whole globe. It is a great honor for the men who have been the actors in the winding up of this prodigious drama. If there have been faults in the earlier periods they have been well retrieved by the magnificent campaign."

The volume is profusely illustrated with portraits, woodcuts, and many documents and letters which could not be enumerated in this description.

"They can, at any moment, have peace simply by laying down their arms, and re-accepting the national authority under the Constitution. After so much, the government could not, if it would, maintain war against them. The loyal people would not sustain, or allow it. If questions should remain we would adjust them by the peaceful means of legislation, conference, courts, and votes, operating only in constitutional and lawful channels, . . . . The Executive power itself, would be greatly diminished by the cessation of actual war. Pardons, and remission of forfeitures, however, would still be within Executive control. In what spirit and temper this control would be exercised can be fairly judged of by the past." Endorsed on reverse by John D. Defrees, Superintendent of Public Printing. Very desirable historical specimen.
